

ANCIENT CUSTOM
STILL PREVAILSGeneral Nogi and His Wife Commit Suicide.

FINAL TRIBUTE TO EMPEROR

Supreme Military Councillor of Japanese Empire and Conqueror of General Stoessel at Port Arthur During the War With Russia Cuts His Throat and His Wife Stabs Herself Grief Over Death of Emperor the Reason.

Tokio, Sept. 14.—General Count Maresuke Nogi, supreme military councillor of the empire, and his wife, the Countess Nogi, committed suicide in accordance with the ancient Japanese custom as a final tribute to their departed emperor and friend, Mutsu hito.

The death by their own hands of the famous general and his wife was as dramatic as it was sad.

The general cut his throat with a short sword and the countess committed harikari.

Following the Samurai custom the couple had carefully prepared their plans for killing themselves and timed them so that they would be coincident with the departure forever from Tokio of the dead emperor.

General Nogi and the countess had attended the funeral services of Mutsu hito at the palace here and it was expected that they would proceed to Aoyama with the cortege. Instead, however, at the conclusion of the ceremony at the palace they withdrew to their modest home in Akasaka, a suburb of Tokio, and there began their final preparations for death.

First the general wrote a letter to his new emperor, Yoshihito, which later was found beside his body. Then he draped in mourning a portrait on the wall of the late emperor and afterwards he and his wife dressed themselves in full Japanese costume and drank a farewell cup of Sake from cups which had been presented to them by Mutsu hito.

Couple Calmly Await Signal.

Darkness had fallen and General Nogi and the countess sat and waited the signal they had agreed upon to announce their leave taking. This was the booming of a single gun in the palace grounds at Tokio which was to let the people know that the body of the emperor was starting on the funeral car for its last resting place.

As the boom of the gun resounded through the clear, still night, General Nogi arose and, grasping in his hand a short sword, plunged it into his throat while the countess stabbed herself through the body. A student who resides in the Nogi home heard the fall of the bodies and rushed into the room. Lying upon the floor were the hero of Port Arthur and his wife. Both still were breathing, but their spasmodic gasps showed plainly that death was near. The student hurried for aid, but when he returned with it both the general and the countess were dead.

The tragedy created a profound sensation and expressions of sorrow were heard on every hand.

Those who knew General Nogi well declared that his calmness in killing himself was the kind of stoicism he always had displayed, no matter what crisis faced him. They instanced the famous charge of the Japanese on 203 Meter hill during the Russo-Japanese war, when as commander of the Japanese third army Nogi saw the Russians mow down his forces in hundreds, among them two of his own sons, and yet quietly and fearlessly continued the battle, taking the hill and eventually being handed the surrender of Lieutenant General Stoessel at Port Arthur.

Count Nogi was born at Hagi, in the province of Choshu, in 1849, and was the eldest son of Maresugu Nogi, a Samurai, of the Choshu clan.

FOLLOWS FEUDAL CUSTOM

Nogi May Not Have Wanted Emperor to Go on Last Journey Alone.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Viscount Chinda, Japanese ambassador here, was inexpressibly shocked and grieved at the tragic death of General Nogi and his wife. The ambassador recalled the fact that in the days of feudal Japan when the lord of the manor died it was by no means an uncommon practice for his close dependents and friends to commit suicide in order that the spirit of the deceased should not make the last journey alone. In recent years, and in the new Japan, this custom had been generally abandoned, so that it is now of very rare occurrence.

SHERIFF ASKS FOR TROOPS

Mob Destroys Starting Station, Stones Cars and Assaults Strikebreakers Governor Eberhart's Secretary Notifies Sheriff to Make an Effort to Restore Order or Resign.

Duluth, Sept. 14.—While 125 men of the three Duluth companies of the Third regiment were encamped in the armory awaiting orders from Governor Eberhart the city council voted to bring action in court to compel the street railway company to operate its cars.

Judge Dibell later signed an order in the mandamus proceedings directing the company to show cause why it is not giving the public service. Arguments will be heard Monday.

The troops assembled in the armory when Sheriff Meinung requested the governor to order out the militia, saying he was in need of 500 men.

No riots in any section of the city were reported at night. Hundreds of men congregated in the streets, but whether they were strikers, sympathizers or persons attracted out of curiosity the police were unable to ascertain.

Mob violence hung itself up the main street and through the city in the daytime, coming from the West End, where for most of the week an ungoverned mass of men has dared the police and wrecked cars.

Racing through the business section the mob stopped long enough to uproot and destroy the car company's starting station at Third avenue west, pursued the employees, but failed to catch them; then went on, finally meeting a cross current at Lake avenue, where mill hands joined the West Enders just as a car came into sight.

The conductor and motorman each received an awful thrashing, one being pitched through a window. Then the crowd dissolved.

Dare Police to Shoot.

In the West End the 5,000 men, boys and women stood around, a brick in each hand, a pile of cobblestones at their feet, daring the police to shoot or the company to let out a car. Many women carried some object to throw. The police stood pat and waited.

A car would clang into the crowd. The motorman would put on all power, drop on his knees in the vestibule and try to run through the packed humanity. But his trolley pole quickly would be pulled from the wire and the crowd pour through the car, jerking seats from the floor, beating the conductor, and eventually reaching the motorman. There was little chance for the strikebreakers to run and they were carried, bruised and bleeding, to drug stores. Then the crowd would reassemble and wait for another car.

W. E. McEwen, State Federation of Labor secretary, appealed to the rioters, the tenure of his appeal being "for God's sake, men, keep your heads."

Appeals, demands, charges and counter charges are made by civic organization heads and municipal officials. Sheriff Meinung of St. Louis county declares that he had not organized a force of deputies because Mayor McCuen had not asked for them.

Five arrests were made, so far as can be ascertained. Six carmen were hurt. The police say they were unable to enter the crowd and pick out the stone throwers.

HOT MESSAGE TO SHERIFF

Governor's Secretary Calls on Him to Restore Order.

St. Paul, Sept. 14.—The calling of the state militia to handle the situation in Duluth depends upon the action taken by Sheriff John R. Meinung of that city, to whom Ralph W. Wheeler, secretary to Governor Eberhart, sent the following ultimatum:

"Am advised that you have made no effort to control the strike situation in Duluth. I look to you to exhaust all efforts to preserve order before calling on the state militia. If you are not willing to do this resign at once and I will take the situation in hand."

MADE NO PLEDGE TO DIX

Governor Wilson Denies a Published Report.

Seagirt, N. J., Sept. 14.—Governor Woodrow Wilson declared that when he saw Governor Dix at the New York state fair at Syracuse he gave him no assurance of support.

The declaration was called forth by a published report that such assurances were given by Governor Wilson to the New York state executive. The presidential nominee had nothing more to say on the New York state situation.

He announced that he would leave early Sunday afternoon on his Western trip.

SAMUEL GOMPERS.

President of American Federation of Labor.

LABOR ISSUES AN APPEAL

Scores Taft, But Makes No Choice Between Roosevelt and Wilson.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Increase or organized labor's representation in congress.

This is the keynote of the 1912 political program officially announced in the weekly news letter of the American Federation of Labor, which sounds labor's campaign cry.

President Taft is scored, but neither Governor Wilson nor Roosevelt is endorsed. The three platforms are set out in full, with criticism for the Republican and about equal praise given the Democratic and Progressive labor planks.

The political bulletin, approved by President Gompers and other labor leaders, calls on union laborers to elect municipal, county, state and congressional candidates favorable to labor.

"Don't be deluded by fanciful political programs that assume to transport the labor movement to some Utopian land of promise," is one statement of the labor chiefs.

MAY LAND MARINES
IN SANTO DOMINGORebels Said to Be in Possession of Customs Houses.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Invasion of Santo Domingo by American land forces, in addition to the dispatch of warships to the black republic, may be decided upon. Advice reaching the state department were to the effect that the revolutionists had seized virtually all the customs houses along the Dominican-Haitian frontier, which are under the supervision of representatives of American bankers.

The action of the rebels is puzzling to the state department officials. In past revolutions the leaders have carefully avoided interfering with the customs houses and thus inviting action by the United States.

Plans for the military expedition are being guarded with more than usual secrecy. Orders probably will be issued for the sending of several detachments of marines as soon as the necessary vessels are forthcoming.

FEDERALS REPULSE REBELS

Attack on El Tigre Fails to Reduce Mexican Town.

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 14.—The attack of Inez Salazar's rebels on El Tigre ended in their repulse by a small band of federal garrisoning the camp.

Salazar sent a messenger under a flag of truce to the federal commander, demanding the surrender of the town to avoid further bloodshed. As no one in the camp had been wounded it was believed Salazar's request came as the result of losses among his own men.

When the demand was refused Salazar renewed the attack and firing continued until night, when the rebels withdrew. At nightfall, however, they began firing upon the town at long range, the federals replying.

During the day's fighting two federals were wounded. No Americans were hurt. The rebel loss is unknown.

AMERICA WON'T INTERVENE

Officials Say Turko-Italian War May Continue.

Washington, Sept. 14.—While there is a disposition to assist in every proper way the restoration of peace between Italy and Turkey state department officials said that so far the United States has made no move whatever in that direction. They said no considerations have yet presented themselves of sufficient weight to justify a departure from the traditional American policy of nonintervention in the political quarrels of Europe.

MEXICO AND
THE ELECTIONWar There Might Have an Effect on November Result.

U. S. INTERVENTION LIKELY.

Although President Taft Has Endeavored to Avert Necessity For Sending Troops There—Peoples of the Central and South American Countries Do Not Like Us.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Sept. 14.—[Special.]—As those Mexicans, or some of them, seemed determined to have the United States embroiled in a mess in that country, it might be well for the "sure thing" political prophets to withhold their absolute predictions for awhile. If troops are sent into Mexico it means war, and war means a change in the political outlook.

Several months ago a magazine writer was speculating on the proposition as to whether it would be wise to write an article with the title "Is a war necessary to elect Taft?" He then proposed to speculate on the possibilities of war in Mexico and the effect it would have on the presidential election.

It must be said for President Taft that during all the time we have had trouble on the border, all the while that Mexican rebels and Mexican regulars have been interfering with American citizens and property, he has tried in every way to avert the necessity of sending troops over the border. Neither the president nor any other patriotic citizen wants war with Mexico.

They Don't Like Us. None of the peoples of the Central and South American countries, those whom this country has befriended and protected, like us. The people of Cuba, from whom we lifted the Spanish yoke, do not like us. The people of Mexico, whom we saved from a foreign power, are the same, and it is true of Venezuela and, in fact, the whole southern and Latin American peoples whom we protect with our Monroe doctrine.

The main reason is because the better government which we advocate prevents the freebooters from looting the treasuries. It is the buccannery and insurgents who are stirring up the sentiment against the United States.

On Their Way Out.

These primary elections often give us information about the senate long in advance of the regular elections. For instance, we can now definitely say that the Republican membership of the committee on appropriations has been "shot to pieces" and will be largely reorganized in the next congress. Curtis of Kansas, Gamble of South Dakota, Dixon of Montana and Bourne of Oregon have been eliminated by the primary, and Wetmore of Rhode Island has declined to become a candidate again. Nixon of Nevada created a vacancy by death. But the "old guard" remains. There are Warren, Perkins, Gallinger and Smoot, regulars who stand pat without being hitched.

Didn't Gee With Taft.

The late Lieutenant General MacArthur was one of the several men who were made lieutenant generals who never was chief of staff of the army. Young, Bates and Chaffee were given this honor, although MacArthur was their equal in ability. MacArthur was commanding general in the Philippines when Taft was governor. They didn't "gee" very well. Each had his own ideas of what he wanted, and each was pretty stubborn when he thought he was right. Taft was secretary of war when MacArthur became lieutenant general. MacArthur was ordered to Milwaukee and not given a command.

Abolished the Grade.

In order to prevent General Wood from attaining the high honor the grade of lieutenant general was abolished. It seems rather odd that the grade was created for such men as Schofield, Miles, Young, Chaffee, Bates, Corbin and MacArthur when such men as Meade, Hancock, Howard, Otis, Thomas, McClellan, Hooker, Halleck, Crook and a dozen other brilliant generals of the civil war did not get it. We were very liberal after the Spanish war.

An Opening For Spellbinders.

When the political campaign is over I have an idea which may be just what is needed. There will be a lot of political spellbinders out of jobs. Why could they not be sent out to kill the predatory animals in the west. At least a dozen different bills were introduced in the last session appropriating money for this purpose. None of them passed, but if it should become known that the spellbinders were to be the beneficiaries the chances are money would soon be provided for the employment of these men who seem to have jobs only once in four years.

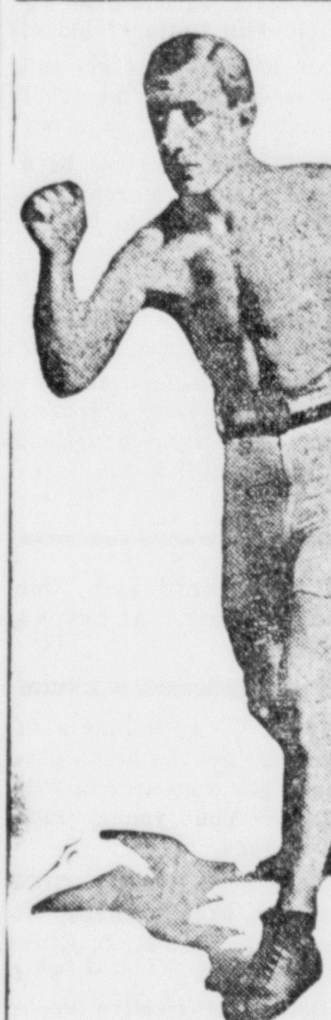

They Will Come Back.

There was a surprise when the so called "dirty road statesmen" did not make a fight against the senate amendment striking out what they had secured in the postoffice appropriation bill. But it is now explained that they thought it was better for them to await the investigations, to get more information and to make the fight again on the next bill. They have not stopped. They have made a beginning and are sure of success some time.

ABE ATTELL IS OUTPOINTED

Harry Thomas of England Defeats
Former Featherweight Champion.

New York, Sept. 14.—Abe Attell, in his first appearance in a New York ring since his suspension by the New York State Athletic commission, was outpointed by Harry Thomas of England in a ten-round bout here.

Attell showed an occasional flash of his old time form, but appeared to be slower in his footwork. Thomas jabbed constantly with his left, landing easily. At close quarters Attell showed to better advantage, landing many heavy body blows. The former featherweight champion, however, had the better of only two of the rounds. Two others were even, but in the remaining six Thomas was the victor.

FARMER SLAYS WIFE,
SON AND HIMSELFMurderer Uses Knife and Hammer to Commit Crimes.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Sept. 14.—The bodies of Martin Thompson, a farmer, his wife, Caroline, and their eight-year-old son, Raymond, were found in their home six miles southeast of Council Bluffs, with their throats cut and the heads of the woman and boy crushed with a hammer.

Circumstances surrounding the crime and a note left by the man indicate that Thompson killed his wife and son while they slept and then committed suicide. So far no motive for the deed has been discovered.

The bodies were all lying side by side on the kitchen floor. A knife lay by the man's side. The beds were soaked with blood, indicating that the murders were committed while the victims slept, the bodies being afterward taken to the kitchen. All were in their night clothes.

Los Angeles, Sept. 14.—Judge Alfred B. Beers of Bridgeport, Conn., was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at the closing session of the encampment here. Selection of the next meeting place of the veterans was left to the executive council. Other officers chosen were:

Senior vice commander, Henry Z. Osborn, Los Angeles.
Junior vice commander, Americus Wheeldon, Louisville, Ky.

Chaplain, George Edward Lovejoy, Lawrence, Mass.

Medical director, Dr. W. J. Whitaker, Dallas, Tex.

Quartermaster general, Colonel A. D. Stogitz, Buffalo, N. Y.

JURY FREES VICTOR ALLEN

Finds Him Not Guilty of Hillsville Courthouse Murders.

Wytheville, Va., Sept. 14.—Victor Allen, last of the Allen clansmen to be tried, was acquitted of the charge of having participated in the Carroll county courthouse murders at Hillsville last March.

It took the jury only half an hour to find its verdict. The verdict brought a demonstration from the spectators, a large portion of whom were women.

The acquittal of Victor Allen brought to a close, for the present at least, the trials of the members of the Allen clan for the murders at Hillsville, where the presiding judge, the sheriff, the commonwealth's attorney, a juror and a witness met death at the hands of the Allen clan.

LUMBER INQUIRY AT AN END

Witness Says Selling Direct Would Kill Retailer.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 14.—The federal lumber inquiry, which has been in progress here, ended with the examination of F. E. Robbins of Ritzville, Wash., vice president of the White River Lumber company, and W. C. Mills of Seattle, president of the Globe Lumber company, Globe Wash., and manager of the West Coast Lumber Manufacturers' association. Both witnesses were called by the defense.

"If the wholesalers all sold direct to customers the retailers would soon be driven out of business and any community without a retail lumber dealer would be in a bad fix," Mr. Robbins testified, "unless the consumer there could buy in carload lots, which very few can do."

BANKERS FOR PENNY POSTAGE

Convention Selects Boston for Next Meeting Place.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 14.—The American Bankers' association concluded its annual convention by selecting Boston for its next meeting place; formally advancing Charles H. Huttig of St. Louis from vice president to president and almost unanimously declaring for penny postage on ordinary letters.

The currency reform question was not taken up by the convention. Practically the only attention given to the matter was contained in a short address of the new president. He pledged himself to work for passage of laws "that will keep banking business in a normal and healthy condition."

Hiss Madero and Cheer Diaz.

Mexico City, Sept. 14.—The name of Madero was hissed here in the chamber of deputies and that of Diaz was cheered by a crowd that packed the galleries. In the streets later disapproval of the president was loudly voiced by the throngs who watched the chief executive pass in his carriage. The same throngs called heartily vivas for the deposed Diaz.

Roosevelt Says "Bosses" Will Be Beaten Two to One.

WESTERN TOUR ELATES HIM

Colonel Speaks in Idaho and Utah and Declares That While the Progressive Movement Had Its Origin in the West It Is Spreading Like Wildfire in the East.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 14.—"We're going to beat the bosses two to one at the polls next November," Colonel Roosevelt prophesied. He said that in the East the Progressive party would "attend to the bosses" and urged the people of the West to do likewise. While the Progressive movement had originated in the West he said it was "spreading like wildfire in the East."

Colonel Roosevelt made his prophecy at the close of his long tour through the Northwest, the outcome of which, he said, pleased him greatly. He came into Utah from Boise, Ida., speaking on the way at Blackfoot and Pocatello, Ida. He stopped in Ogden only long enough to address the delegates to the Progressive state convention, then left for Reno, Nev., on his way to the coast.

"I want to say one word," he said in his speech at Ogden, "about certain men in Utah who are whining that they cannot support me because they have given their pledge to President Taft to support him. I do not object to a man because he opposes me but I do object to the action of any man who says he is bound by theft. Any man who took part in seating the stolen delegates at the Chicago convention was engaged in dishonest practices and is advancing what he knows to be merely an excuse if he says he is bound by the result of that convention."

Not Obligated to Support Taft.

"No man who is an honest man is obliged to support theft. Up to the time of the convention there was room for an honest difference of opinion, but once the convention was ended there was no room for such a difference."

It was in his speech at Pocatello that Colonel Roosevelt declared his confidence in the outcome in November. He spoke from a platform in front of the public school and to make himself heard at all was obliged to spend a good deal of his time in endeavoring to quiet the swarms of school children who scrambled upon the platform and prattled at his feet.

"I have come out here to the Rocky mountains and the Pacific coast," he said, "for a definite reason. I was asked not to come by some of my managers, who pointed out that New York state alone has almost as many electoral votes as the states in the Rocky mountains and on the Pacific coast and that the trip would take two or three weeks. But I insisted upon coming because here in the West the Progressive movement originally started. In the East it is spreading like wildfire."

"It is a matter of regret that in the Republican national convention some of the worst tools of the political machine came from the Rocky Mountain states. I want you to attend to them. We're attending to the bosses in the East. We beat the bosses in the primaries and we're going to beat them two to one at the polls next November."

EIGHT AMENDMENTS BEATEN

Less Than Fifty Per Cent of Normal Vote Cast in Ohio.

Columbus, O., Sept. 14.—Final figures from eighty-seven of the eighty-eight counties in the state completed by the secretary of state show that eight of the forty-two amendments to the state constitution voted at the special election Sept. 3 have been defeated.

The eight defeated amendments are: Equal suffrage.
Fifty million dollar good roads bond issues.

Prohibition of outdoor advertising.
Regulation of labor injunctions.
Abolition of the death penalty.
Use of voting machines.

Appointment of women to certain offices.

Elimination of the word "white" from the constitution.

The total vote was less than 550,000, below 50 per cent of normal.

"Any who do not believe as our church believes should get out of it and not sail under false auspices. Be honorable, honest and true to yourself and you will never have to look for a job—the job will come to you."

Brewster's Millions

Probably no book dramatization of recent years has enjoyed the success and popularity that has attended
"Brewster's Millions." George Barr McCutcheon's remarkable tale of frenzied finance, which appears at the opera house Thursday evening, Sep-19. The title character is in the capable hands of Clyde Bates and the supporting company is one of exceptional merit. The story of the play is familiar to the average theatregoer and book reader and tells how Montgomery Brewster, inheriting a million dollars from his grandfather, while given a house-warming and a surprise party by his friends, who shower congratulations upon him, is informed by a solicitor that his mother's brother, who has just died, has left him a fortune of $7,000,000, on condition that he shall spend the million within a year, the reason for the stipulation being that the young man's mother had been left in want by the grandfather, and the uncle does not wish her son to enjoy an inheritance derived from that source.
The conditions are that he shall not give the million dollars away—that would be too simple—yet he is not to be mean. He must spend it in some legitimate way, by investing it in some business, or using it for his enjoyment and that of his friends.
Above all he must not disclose his purpose. He accepts the conditions and his efforts to make himself pen-niless in a short time, makes up the fun that follows.

Up to the last minute, some complications or other threatens to defeat him; but his wit and dexterity extricate him from every emergency and he finally succeeds in his task.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by ear local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear).
There is only one way to cure deafness,
and that is by constitutional remedies.
Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces (tarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

MESSENGERS OF DEATH.

Specters That Haunt Some Old World
Ancestral Homes.

That historic German ghost, the White Lady of the Hohenzollerns, would seem to have more than a legan-dary basis. So far as I am aware, this ghost has never been investigated by properly qualified psychical researchers, but its credentials are too well authenticated to be ignored. The mission of the White Lady, apparently, is to announce the death of some member of the Hohenzollern family, and her most frequent haunting place is the royal palace at Berlin. She was seen as early as 1625, and since the time of Frederick the Great her appearance has been regularly chronicled on the eve of the death of the king of Prussia.

For the matter of that, there are not a few families whose ancestral homes, according to tradition, are haunted by death announcing ghosts. This is particularly the case with certain distinguished British families. The Yorkshire Middletons, a Catholic family, are said to be warned of approaching death by the apparition of a Benedictine nun.
Cortachy castle, which belongs to the earls of Airrie, is haunted by a ghostly drummer, who beats his drum whenever death is near an Airrie. Two white owls perching on the roof of the family mansion are taken as a sure omen of death in the Arundel of Wardour family. Finally, tradition has it that the death of an Argyle is foretold in a most impressive manner by a phantom hearse driving up to the door.—Metropolitan Magazine.

Lava.

Lava may be blown into opaque bottles of gossamer lightness, and the harder sort makes a beautiful green glass of half the weight and double the strength of ordinary glass. But it is not always the same. Every volcano pours out its own special brand of molten mixture, disagreeable to walk on, but sometimes yielding precious products, as pumice stone. Lava, like all things, decomposes under the touch of time, as the fertile plains of Sicily testify.

AUTO AND SWITCH ENGINE COLLIDE

Car Carrying Paul Perkins and E. O. Webb Loses Wheel and is Badly Damaged Yesterday

AT OAK STREET CROSSING

Perkins and Witness Roach Claim Engine Gave No Signal for the Crossing

About four o'clock Friday afternoon Paul Perkins and Alderman E. O. Webb nearly lost their lives at the Oak street crossing when the car Mr. Perkins was driving and which is owned by Clyde Parker collided with a switch engine backing north on the St. Paul line of the Northern Pacific.

Mr. Perkins had previously taken Mr. Parker to the foundry and had returned to take Mr. Webb to the same place. They drove east on Oak street and as they approached the crossing heard neither bell nor whistle of the engine.

Mr. Perkins, in a statement he made, asserts he threw on his emergency brake and did all he could to stop his car when the engine emerged from behind the string of logging flats at the south side of the crossing. To further complicate matters there is a large barn on this side of the street which further shuts off the view of an engine.

The auto skidded down the road and the switch engine was struck directly back of the cylinder. The car was sheered to one side, a front wheel clipped from the right side, the engine of the auto wrecked, head light smashed and fender bent, while the axle was twisted out of shape. The jar nearly threw Alderman Webb out of the car on the switch engine.

A lapse of a fraction of a second would have made the accident more serious for it would have meant the cutting to pieces of the car and probably the killing of Perkins and Webb.

Traveling 40 feet back of the Parker car was Grover Koop and a travelingman, F. H. Roach of St. Paul, of the Hathaway-Shaft Shoe Co. Both saw Mr. Perkins slow up and at first thought he would clear the engine. They saw the car hit the engine and saw the switch engine toss the auto aside. They were as surprised as Perkins and Webb and also claim that they did not hear the switch engine ring or whistle as it backed up to the crossing. Roach claims it was an unavoidable accident on the part of Mr. Perkins.

"Had Mr. Perkins been a fraction of a second sooner on the crossing," said Mr. Roach, "the switch engine would have cut the auto to pieces and would have crushed the life out of the occupants of the car."

Five minutes after the car was hit, the tire which had remained intact on the rim of the wheel torn from the car, exploded with a loud noise.

Rosko Brothers towed the car back to their garage and will repair it. The full extent of the damage done to the auto which is a Hudson 33, is something serious. Henry Rosko states that the engine is a total wreck. It will require a new engine, new frame, new wheels, fenders, lamps, radiator, magneto, etc. It is the worst wrecked car which ever came into the Rosko garage. The Parker car was valued at $1600 f. o. b. factory price.

The switch engine which was struck by the auto is No. 1,001. The crew on it were William H. Lawrence, engineer; Henry Meyer, fireman; Tom Pillon, foreman; Frank A. Sundine, brakeman.

The engine, it is said, had pushed a train over the hill and was backing to Brainerd. The fireman was ringing the bell. The crew claims that the engine was traveling slowly, just drifting along. Lawrence and Meyer saw the auto come down the hill and at the rate they were going the automobile was due to strike between the tender and engine. Lawrence opened her up and when the shock came the automobile hit the cylinder a square blow.

Had the auto hit the siderods or main rod they would have gone under the switch engine and been ground to pieces.

STRIKE BREAKER REPORTED DYING

Special to Dispatch:—

Duluth, Minn., September 14—Gov. Eberhart arrived here this morning from St. Paul and will look the strike situation over. If he deems it advisable, he will call out the state troops. All is quiet here so far today.

George Reddon, of Chicago, a strike breaker, is reported dying in a local hospital. Yesterday he fired upon a crowd of sympathizers and was roughly handled. His skull is said to be fractured.

BUSH ARRIVES IN CITY

Young Brainerd Pitcher Looks Well and Strong—Will Leave for Chicago Monday

Leslie Bush, the star pitcher of the Missoula team of the Union association, arrived in the city on the midnight train from St. Paul. Bush took the North Coast Limited from Missoula straight through to the Twin Cities and then traveled north to Brainerd. He will remain in the city Saturday and Sunday and leaves on the four o'clock morning train for Chicago where he will report to Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Bush looks well and strong and has grown considerably while out west. His pitching record has been pers, and especially Ferguson of the Daily Missoulian.

The Philadelphia team's schedule lasts until October 6 and it is highly probable that Connie Mack may use the Brainerd pitcher in some of the games now that Bender has been retired. When the league season is finished the Athletics will tour Cuba this winter on a barn storming trip.

A game for Sunday was talked of, with Bush as the drawing card. The crowd, however, would want to see him pitch and that may not be possible. He is now a Connie Mack man and it is a question whether he would be allowed to pitch.

It is figured on giving a banquet in honor of Bush during his stay here and committees are working on the arrangements for the same.

LAST GAME PLAYED

Missoula Champions Play the Missoula Independents on September 11—A Benefit Game

The Union association season has closed with Missoula the pennant winner. A benefit game was arranged for September 11 and two teams competed, the Missoula Champions and a team of amateurs and professionals dubbed the Missoula Independents. Bush played shortstop and later pitched in the Independents. The score wound up 5 to 4 in favor of the Champions.

In the sixth inning Bush got a lucky three-bagger. He dropped a sure-enough single in front of Jackie Warren and the ball bounced out of reach.

The feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a jeweled Elks' pin to Manager Blankenship.

The Helena Record in selecting an All Star team places Bush among the pitchers, Blankenship as catcher, and manager, Perrine on second base. "As we heard a former manager and a successful one say yesterday, the best possible way to have a winning team is to build it around a strong pitching staff, and we don't think that Zamloch, Bush, Dell and Hildebrand can be improved upon as a whole."

rarely equalled in Missoula, where he pitched 47 games and won 34 of them. This is some record when one considers that Bush was hoisted from the bushes into the western league team and given his first taste of professional playing. C. M. PATEK & SON

Is the New Firm Name For This Well Known Brainerd Furniture Establishment

Mr. C. M. Patek, who has conducted a growing and flourishing furniture business in this city since 1882, has taken into full partnership with him his son, Chas. H. Patek. The firm name will hereafter be known as C. M. Patek & Son.

Chas. H. Patek is a Brainerd boy, born and raised here, and graduated from the high school in 1905. He has since been in his father's employ with the exception of a short period while gaining salesmanship experience in Minneapolis.

This firm has steadily grown and added to its departments various lines until it now comprises a full house furnishing outfitting feature, as well as the regular furniture, carpet and wall paper departments.

We bespeak for the new firm the success that their methods of doing business deserve.

PROCLAMATION

A state primary election being held in the city of Brainerd on the 17th day of Sept. 1912, notice is hereby given that the law in relation to the sale and use of intoxicating liquors within the city of Brainerd on said day will be strictly enforced.

H. P. DUNN,

Dated Sept. 14th, 1912.

At the Empress

Floyd Hessler, of Boston, is the name of the new singer at the Empress. Mr. Hessler has a pleasing baritone voice of high range and his singing was a positive pleasure to the large audiences present. His songs were greeted with two and three encores each.

Miss Beatrice Irvine is the pianist and her playing is a most delightful feature of the entertainment. Three subjects are shown in the moving pictures and each is very interesting.

THE ASHLAND TIDINGS

B. W. Talcott, Formerly of Brainerd, is the City Editor of the Ashland Paper

The Dispatch is in receipt of a copy of the Ashland Tidings, published in Ashland, Oregon, an eight page, six column semi-weekly paper, all home print. Under the caption appears the name of B. W. Talcott, city editor, who was formerly city editor of the Brainerd Dispatch.

The Tidings is a well printed and well edited paper and covers "Sunny Southern Oregon" and "Ashland The Beautiful." Society news is well represented and is contributed by Miss Maud Hawley and Miss Vivian Greer.

The paper is a very interesting publication and reflects credit on the work of Mr. Talcott.

Constipated? Go To Your Doctor

It is impossible to be well, simply impossible, if the bowels are constipated. Waste products, poisonous substances, must be removed from the body at least once each day, or there will be trouble. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Pills, gently laxative, all vegetable. He knows why they act directly on the liver.

For County Auditor

I hereby announce myself a candidate on the Republican ticket for the office of Auditor of Crow Wing county.

I was born in and have always been a resident of this county. Having had four years experience as assistant in the office to which I aspire and six years experience in other accounting offices, I am confident of my ability to perform the duties with credit.

Very respectfully,
W2 CHARLES W. MAHLUM.

Setting Her Right.

A newly married woman made a pie for dinner. "I am afraid," the bride said, "that I left something out, and that it's not very good."
The husband tried it and said: "There is nothing you could leave out that would make a pie taste like that. It's something you've put in."—Argonaut.

Mother—Now do be careful how you act about that young man or people will think you are running after him. Daughter—I don't have to do that, mother; I can win in a walk.—Boston Transcript.

Solid Gold.

For many years the term "solid gold" has been a commercial misnomer. Some of the ancient Roman jewelry as well as that of the renaissance period was indeed made of pure gold, worked up by hand with the crudest of tools, but since the old day there has been a constantly increasing employment of alloys, for the reason that jewelers found that the harder the gold was rendered by good alloys the greater its wearing qualities and the more secure, therefore, was the setting of the gems it contained.—Argonaut.

History.

"Yes, Johnny's doing very nicely at school," said a proud mother, "and he remembers everything he learns, especially in history. He told me the other day how Alexander cut the accordeon knot."
